The contest will consist of a preliminary to choose the five finalists for the popularity vote. The candidate in the preliminaries are to be judged on beauty by outside judges sometime this week.

Campaign begins on Monday, October 12, at 7 A.M. and lasts until voting is over on Wednesday, October 14. Voting polls will be in the Administration from 8 A.M. until 4 P. M. on Wednesday only.

Candidates and campaign managers voted to have a limited campaign this year which will consist of name cards, a sign, and a picture of each candidate.

Queen to Ride Parade Float AWS Builds

Bill Simmons, co-chairman of the Homecoming Committee, reports that this year the Association of Women Students is going to build a float for the reigning Homecoming Queen to ride in the Homecoming Parade.

The college has not had one for many years, and it will add prestige and victory to the queen, who usually rides in a convertible.

Peggy Humphreys, president of A.W.S., and Simmons strongly urge all students to participate in helping build our queen's float.

Lists will be passed around in orientation classes for students to sign to help. If you are not a freshman and are interested in the project, contact Simmons or Miss Humphreys and they will give you all the details.

Nat'l Mag Takes Applications for '60 College Board

Mademoiselle magazine is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership in its 1959-60 College Board.

Mademoiselle's College Board Contest offers a chance for the freshman as well as the senior to win one of the twenty guest editorships — a month on the staff of Mademoiselle.

A girl who is accepted on the College Board will do one assignment during the college year designed to help her discover her own abilities and job interests, and to develop her critical and creative talents. For her assignment a College Board member may write a feature about life on her campus, or submit art work, fashion, fiction, or promotion ideas for possible use in Mademoiselle.

College Board members who come out among the top twenty on the assignment win a Mademoiselle guest editorship and will be brought to New York next June to help write, edit, and illustrate the August College issue. They will be paid a regular salary for their month's work, plus round-trip transportation to New York City.

While in New York each guest editor interviews a celebrity in her chosen field, visits fashion workrooms, newspaper offices, stores, and advertising agencies, besides working daily with the editor to whom she is assigned.

November 30 is the deadline for College Board membership. Successful candidates will be notified of acceptance on the College Board before the first of the year.

For further information write the College Board Contest, c/o Mademoiselle, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, New York, or see the August, September, October, or November issue of Mademoiselle.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Wear It Proudly!

A few freshmen showed a little spirit lately when they decided to revolt against initiation and burn their beanies. This is usually the type of thing that happens when freshmen do not understand the true meaning of initiation and Walkout Day. Later in college, they will realize that it was one of the dearest times in their college life. Just stop and think—Will wearing this green and white beanie, be the hardest thing I will encounter during my college life?

The green and white on the beanies stands for our school colors. When we think of green and white, we think of our annual, our cheerleaders, and our football team. Those "Big Men" who wear green and white M Club jackets once wore the green and white beanie, and so did many of our faculty members. It is a tradition at NWMSC, and one should be proud to have the privilege to do it.

The spirit shown last week is not the type of spirit that is wanted, but it did show that the freshmen can get a little spirit. Let's see if they can get a good school spirit for the next football game to help the boys in the green and white uniforms. They have the spirit it takes to get out and practice, drill, study plays, and learn to work together as a team. They do these things not to find glory for themselves, but to find glory for the school. When they do this, we have a right to be proud of our team.

Teams need a little school spirit behind them, even though they are the ones with the most school spirit. Let's not let them down at the next game, but get out and yell and use our spirit in a most constructive way for the good of us all.

Bennett Cerf, Publisher, Humo Highlights. MSTA Convention

Bennett A. Cerf will be featured at a lecture assembly next fall. The widely-known speaker will appear at the College, Thursday, October 8.

Cerf was born May 25, 1898, in New York City. He went to college at Columbia University, majoring in journalism. He is married and is the father of two teen-age sons.

According to Geoffrey T. Hellman, writing for the New Yorker, Cerf is tall, brown-eyed, confident, boyish, cheerful, warmhearted, and healthy. Although he is a man of sixty, he still has a boyish grin. He still has the extraordinary energy that he had in his twenties, and he is still the same extrovert ham. Cerf is extremely bright and quick. He lives on people and gets his nourishment from human contacts.

Is President of Random House

Bennett Cerf is the president, co-founder, and half owner of Random House, a publishing firm doing a business of nine million dollars a year. This firm puts out a hundred new books annually, many of them worth serious consideration.

Random House has published, during the thirty-two years of its existence, such contemporary authors as Sinclair Lewis, William Faulkner, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and John O'Hara.

The Modern Library, which Cerf co-owns, has been associated with the reprinting and distribution of such dead greats as Plato, Aristotle, Homer, Vergil, Dante, Shakespeare, and Keats.

His Escape Is Different

A large number of men whose lifework, culturally speaking, has left something to be desired have escaped after hours into avocations of a more refined nature. Cerf's cultural lifework, however, leaves nothing to be desired. He escapes after hours into a variety of activities that, culturally speaking, leave practically everything to be desired.

As an escapist from culture, Cerf is best known as a collector of humor, especially jokes. The Cerf joke factory is the General Dynamics Corporation of the joke industry.

This factory has furnished fuel for at least a score of magazines, including the "Reader's Digest," and three hundred newspapers as well. It has stoked, singlehanded, the furnaces of nine joke books and one encyclopedia, totalling two thousand nine hundred and fifty pages.

Cerfboard Goes to 12 Million

A weekly department of witticisms, "Bennett Cerf's Cerfboard" appears in "This Week" magazine which, as a Sunday component of forty newspapers, has a circulation of over twelve million.

It is, however, as the author of ten anthologies of humorous stories and anecdotes that the president of Random House has made his most ambitious and determined literary descent. These books include "Shake Well Before Using," "Laughing Stock," "An Encyclopedia of Modern American Humor," "Laughter Incorporated," and "Good for a Laugh."

Cerf's jokes have a wide range of subject matter. His favorites are boudoir, mother-in-law, execution, and bereavement jokes. One of his mother-in-law jokes goes like this: Study in mixed emotions—the man who saw his mother-in-law go over a cliff in his new Cadillac convertible.

His Attitude Is Right

Cerf refuses to take life or himself very seriously. He places more credit on his endorsements of commercial products than on endorsements of himself. Some people are surprised to learn that he is a publisher. His outside activities as a balance, however, are helpful. Not only his speaking to colleges and book groups, but also his columns publicize Random House in the right way.

(Information in this article is based on two stories written by Geoffrey T. Hellman for the New Yorker).

Senate Has First Meet of Year

The Student Senate held its first meeting September 17 at the J. W. Jones Union.

Don Kixmiller, student body president, stated that the meeting was primarily to get the senate started for the year.

The senate decided that Walkout Day will not have to be held as early as was anticipated by some freshmen.

Walkout Day will be set by the senate. It will probably be later than the Homecoming Committee's date for the beauty contest to choose the finalists for homecoming queen.

Peg Humphreys was appointed representative to the Homecoming Committee, and Roger Blackwell and Van Price were appointed to work with the M Club on freshman initiation.

The senate also requested that each fraternity send four men to help with initiation during Kangaroo Court.

Returning senators are Mrs. Arnold Lyons, Roger Blackwell, Russ Phelps, Bill Sutter, Van Price, Dave Hargrave, Peg Humphreys, Edy Eckhoff, Janet Sue Cox, Marty Gray, Mrs. Robert Severson, and Odie M. Cate. The sponsors are Dr. Sterling Surrey and Miss Bonnie Magill.

Kirksville Bulldogs Lead MIAA Loop

The North State College Bulldogs from Kirksville rose to great heights last week in non-conference play in their 18-16 victory over a strong St. Joseph's College at Rensselaer, Ind., to become leaders in early MIAA standings. They are the only undefeated and untied team in the six member league.

Other conference members, including defending champion Cape Girardeau, had bad weekends. Of the eight games played thus far by MIAA teams, only three times have loop members been victorious.

Southwest Missouri's Bears of Springfield, impressive in their season-opener with St. Benedict's two weeks ago, and two-time champion Cape Girardeau were upset Saturday. Springfield fell before Pittsburg State, 18-7, and the Cape Indians were edged by Western Kentucky, 13-8.

The Kentuckians scored on a Cape fumble early in the first quarter when they marched from the Indian 38 to paydirt. Ken Weakley of the Cape team knotted the score in the second period but another fumble set the stage for a second Kentucky score. The Indians threatened again before the game ended as they moved to the one-foot line but failed to penetrate the Western Kentucky line for the winning points.

Pittsburgh grabbed two quick touchdowns in the first quarter, one using a blocked punt and the other a Springfield fumble to start drives of 45 and 55 yards.

Maryville Ties Bemidji

In other games, the Northwest State Bearcats of Maryville battled favored Bemidji, Minn., State to a 0-0 tie on a soggy field; Central Missouri of Warrensburg scored a late touchdown to edge Emporia State, 23-21, and the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla fell before Lincoln U. of Jefferson City, 30-14.

Jerry Boyce of Warrensburg rushed 100 yards in the second half against Emporia to set up the late winning TD as teammate Harry Lane went over from the six-yard line. The win squared the Mules' record at 1-1 following their opening loss to Morning side College.

The Maryville Bearcats drove to the Bemidji State 20-yard line four times but couldn't get closer to the end zone.

Intramural Events Set Grid, Tennis Clashes

Football intramural tournament is scheduled to begin soon. Thirty teams are entered in the four leagues. This is an increase of 11 teams over last year. Weather permitting, a play-off will be held between the best teams of the four leagues.

Two fields will be used for play: Horace Mann and the upper field, which is located west of the Armory building. Four games will be played daily from 4:15 to 6:00. Schedules will be posted on bulletin boards in the Administration Building, the Classroom Building, the Den, and the Gym.

The 30 teams have been divided into 4 leagues: the American, National, Continental, and Major.

Teams in the American league are: TKE I, Lakers, C-Bandits, Rockets, Neuro Hall Phi Lambo I, and Bob Cats.

National League: TKE II, Falcons, Vikings, All-Stars, Winners, Knights, and Phi Lambo IV.

Continental League: TKE III, H. A. er's, Rams, Has Beens, Vets Village, Phi Lambo III, Phi Lambo V and Quad Stars.

Major League: TKE IV, Old Pros, Bears, Beat-Niks, Hitch-Hikers, Quad I, Phi Lambo II, and Panthers.

Random Shots

Coach Paul J. Turner was very well pleased with the team effort at the Bemidji game. The only complaints he had were voiced in the direction of the spectators.

When the team was welcomed on the field by the freshmen at the most there were 150 to 200 students. Where were the rest of the 750 freshmen? The spirit and enthusiasm of those students left was deplorable. One notable exception to this was the colony of Phi Lamba Chi, which not only went down and welcomed in the team, but were continuously enthusiastic throughout the game.

Doyle (tank) Thomas, Center, has been placed on the injured list by Coach Paul Turner. Doyle has a large knot just below his floating rib that has been giving him trouble. According to Coach Turner, X-rays have failed to show the trouble. It is doubtful if he will see any action until the trouble clears up.

Ken Adams, tackle, has also been placed on the injured list by Coach Paul Turner. He has a twisted knee but is expected to see limited action.

Bearcat Bees Fumble, Lose To Peru, 21-0

The intramural tennis tournament is drawing much interest among college students. Entries already number 54 with more expected again tonight as play will resume. This is more than twice the number that participated last year states Willie Van Buren, intramural manager.

Two of the Peru tallies came in the first quarter, while the third TD came shortly after the second period opened.

Maurice McDonald, former Maryville High School star and freshman guard, received a knock down shoulder in the second period, and Pete Van Bramer broke a blood vessel in his leg. Both players had to be given medical care.

The game was the first of four on the Bees schedule this year. They open at home Oct. 5 against the Warrensburg Mules B-team.

First score for the Peru B-team came after a Maryville punt was blocked on the Bearcat Bees' 40. A Peru player, under the rules being played, picked up the ball and ran to the five, after which the Peru team carried it over.

Earl Boyd turned in a top game at quarter for the Maryville team, with Louis Cook and Joe Smith showing form at the halfback spots.

Both McDonald and Van Bramer were shining on offense and defense before being injured.
